PROPERTIES OF INGREDIENTS: Ginkgo improves brain microcirculation, and improves brain oxygen supply. It has antioxidant effects, reducing fat oxidation and nerve cell damage due to oxidative stress. The antiaggregation effect is manifested as a decrease in the possibility of thrombus formation. L carnitine plays a role in the transport of long chains of fatty acids to the mitochondria, which provides the energy needed for the physiological function of the cell, while preventing the accumulation of fat. Used in diabetes, peripheral nerve disease characterized by tingling, spasms, damage to the heart muscle, decreased oxygen concentration in the brain, diseases of the heart and blood vessels (increased levels of fat in the blood, atherosclerosis), metal poisoning. Vitamin C boosts immunity. Vitamin D3 plays an important role in musculoskeletal system, while Vitamin E as a powerful antioxidant in neuromuscular system.
